

Absentee Shawnee Tribal Health System's First Annual

CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION CONFERENCE

Keeping Health Care Providers Aware.

The Absentee Shawnee Tribal Health System (ASTHS) will be hosting its first annual Continuing Medical Education (CME) Conference. The program is designed for convenience and affordability for tribal healthcare professionals and for those affiliated professionals who provide care to the American Indian/Alaska Native populations.

ASTHS is the first tribal health program to successfully gain Joint Providership with the Oklahoma State Medical Association, and we are excited to share with you continuing education activities to assist in carrying out your professional responsibilities more effectively and efficiently.

This year's all day conference theme is, "Keeping Health Care Providers Aware." Serving as keynote speaker is Mr. Tyler Zander. Other topics tackled are provider burnout, medical legal risks, obesity, cardiac issues, stroke and more. (See next page for details.)
